Moldova is one of Europe's poorest countries. The situation is marked by an underfunding of public services and service provision in the social sector suffers structural weaknesses. The project hence aims at enhancing the government's capacities in the social sector in order to improve the country's social assistance system. This will be done through better targeting of social assistance schemes and an improvement in the sector's finance management and administration. The consortium provides a team of four long-term experts based in the Ministry of Social Protection, Family and Children. The project's activities comprise: reviewing policy documents, such as the social sector policy matrix, and mechanisms in the public sector, as well as providing training for ministry staff. AVEDIS will provide its expertise in the area of establishing a monitoring and evaluation (M+E) system for the project and the overall social sector. This will then enable an effective monitoring of the sector budget support at large.
